```
II ....
 EXPLORADOR
                       JS index.js X ≡ Notas sobre a Versão: 1.86.0
✓ TASK9
                        JS index.js > [@] saveDataToFile
                         const express = require('express');
 > node_modules
                              const bodyParser = require('body-parser');
 JS index.js
                              const fs = require('fs');
 {} package-lock.json
{} package.json
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  TATES
                             const server = express();
                              server.use(bodyParser.json());
                             const readMe = 'persons.json';
                             let persons = [];
                             try {
                                 const data = fs.readFileSync(readMe, 'utf-8');
                                  persons = JSON.parse(data);
                             } catch (err) {
                                  console.log('Error loading data file. Starting with an empty array.');
                             const saveDataToFile = () => {
                                  try {
                                     fs.writeFileSync(readMe, JSON.stringify(persons, null, 2), 'utf-8');
                                      console.log('Data saved to file.');
                                   } catch (err) {
                                      console.error('Error saving data to file:', err);
                              const validatePerson = (req, res, next) => {
                                  const { name, height } = req.body
                                 if (!/^[a-zA-Z]+$/.test(name) || name.length < 4 || name.length > 50) { return res.status(400).json({error: 'Invalid name. It must consist of alphabetic characters and be between 4 and 50 characters'})
                                                                                                                                                                                                                  PROBLEMAS SAÍDA CONSOLE DE DEPURAÇÃO TERMINAL PORTAS
                       PS C:\Users\ggmed\Desktop\EstudosFlavio\task9> node index.js Error loading data file. Starting with an empty array.
                        Servidor Funcionando!
> ESTRUTURA DO CÓDIGO
```

> LINHA DO TEMPO

Ⅲ ... EXPLORADOR JS index.js X ≡ Notas sobre a Versão: 1.86.0 √ TASK9 JS index.js > [0] saveDataToFile > node modules const numericHeight = parseFloat(height) JS index.js if (isNaN(numericHeight) || numericHeight < 50 || numericHeight > 250) { {} package-lock.json return res.status(400).json({ error: 'Invalid height. It must be a number between 50 and 250.'}) {} package.json } else { TOTAL next(); server.post('/persons', validatePerson, (req, res) => { const newPerson = req.body; persons.push(newPerson); saveDataToFile(); res.status(201).json(newPerson); server.get('/persons', (req, res) => { res.json(persons); server.get('/persons/:name', (req, res) => { const { name } = req.params; const person = persons.find((p) => p.name === name); if (person) { res.json(person); } else { res.status(404).json({ error: 'Person not found' }); server.put('/persons/:name', (req, res) => { const { name } = req.params; const updatedPerson = req.body; const index = persons.findIndex((p) => p.name === name); if (index !== -1) { persons[index] = { ...persons[index], ...updatedPerson }; saveDataToFile(); res.json(persons[index]); } else { res.status(404).json({ error: 'Person not found' });

